Part 1: Women Should Be More Celebrated for their Accomplishments

Group of DMA Girls: Who's represented more in our community? Men or Women?

Woman 1: Women.

Woman 2: Umm, I would say men.

Off-screen Girl 1: Okay, thank you.

Man 1: I would probably say men are.

Man 2: I'd say men.

Off-screen Girl 2: Do you think [gets cut off]

Woman 3: I'd say men are represented more.

Group of DMA Girls 1: Do you think women can do anything men can do?

Woman 3: Oh, definitely and even better of course.

Woman 1: Yes.

Man 2: Yeah.

Woman 2: Yes, most definitely.

Man 1: Absolutely.

Off-screen Girl 3: Thank you.

Group of DMA Girls: Name one woman in a community that is celebrated well.

Man 1: Well, uh, I just came from the Vatican so I'm going to say Mother Theresa.

Woman 3: I don't know. I don't know about this community. I just moved here not that long ago so I don't really. I couldn't tell you about this community.

Man 2: I can't really think of one.

Woman 1: In my community? Oh lord, uh. Oh man. Y'all got me on picture. I have no idea right now.

Off-screen Girl 4: Okay.

Woman 2: Uh, Michelle Obama.

Off-screen Girl 5: Okay, thank you that's all we have.

Question on screen: If women can do anything men can do why is it so hard to come up with a women [sic] that is well celebrated?

Part 2

DMA girls step dancing. Handwriting script overlaid while they are dancing states:

We can be ourselves

We can do anything

We feel empowered/strong

This is our fight

#girl power

Part 3: Awesome Women in Louisville

Off-screen DMA Girls singing Rachel Platten's Fight Song as images of Louisville women (elementary teachers, DMA teachers, historical figures, current female leaders, including Michelle Obama, but not Mother Teresa)

"Like a small boat
On the ocean
Sending big waves
Into motion
Like how a single word
Can make a heart open
I might only have one match
But I can make an explosion
And all those things I didn't say
Wrecking balls inside my brain
I will scream them loud tonight
Can you hear my voice this time?
This is my fight song
Take back my life song
Prove I'm alright song
My power's turned on
Starting right now I'll be strong
I'll play my fight song
And I don't really care if nobody else believes
'Cause I've still got a lot of fight left in me"
